Aloha, Buddy et al,

The day has arrived and we have completed our project. A celebration is certainly called for. We are proud to have built our first house with you and delight in the knowledge that it is a beautiful structure. Everyone involved from the beginning through to the end has contributed to something special. The craftsmanship is evident.

And we made it through without the need for therapy, not a lot anyway.

If you ever need a film done on your life, please let us know.

Mahalo,

David Rothmiller
L.D. Thompson
